

U.S. Colored Troops Living History Encampment

Saturday, April 8, 2017

10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Above: Soldiers of the 107th USCT at Fort Corcoran in the Defenses of Washington, Library of Congress. Right: Reenactors of the 54th Mass. Vol. Infantry at Fort Ward.

Learn about the history, training and army life of the U.S. Colored Troops during the Civil War at this living history encampment featuring the 54th Massachusetts Volunteer Infantry, Co. B., and the 23rd U.S.C.T. The program will include camp life, drilling, displays on the U.S.C.T., and interpretation of the African American men and women who served the Union war effort. Units trained and stationed in the Civil War Defenses of Washington will be highlighted.

Free!
